

Gender (im)balance in higher education: the U-Multirank gender monitor

Webinar: Women in academia:
breaking the glass ceiling or rebuilding the house? March 1st, 2022
Kathrin Müller, U-Multirank

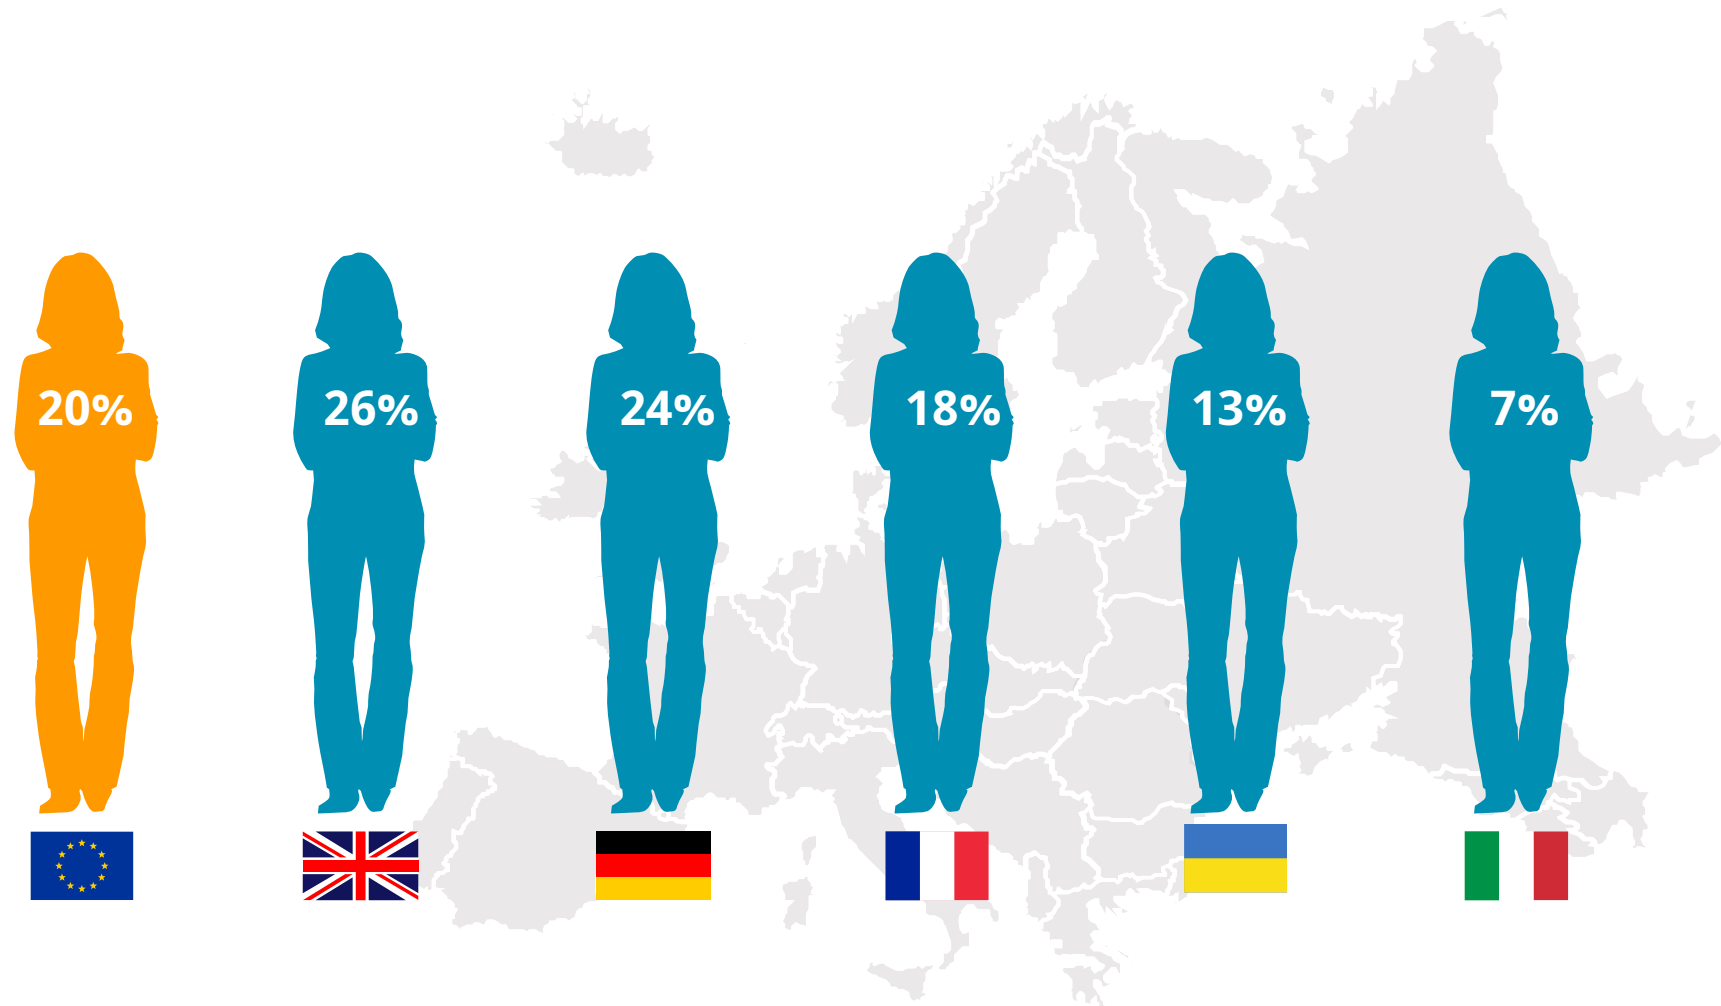

With each career level, the share of women in higher education declines...

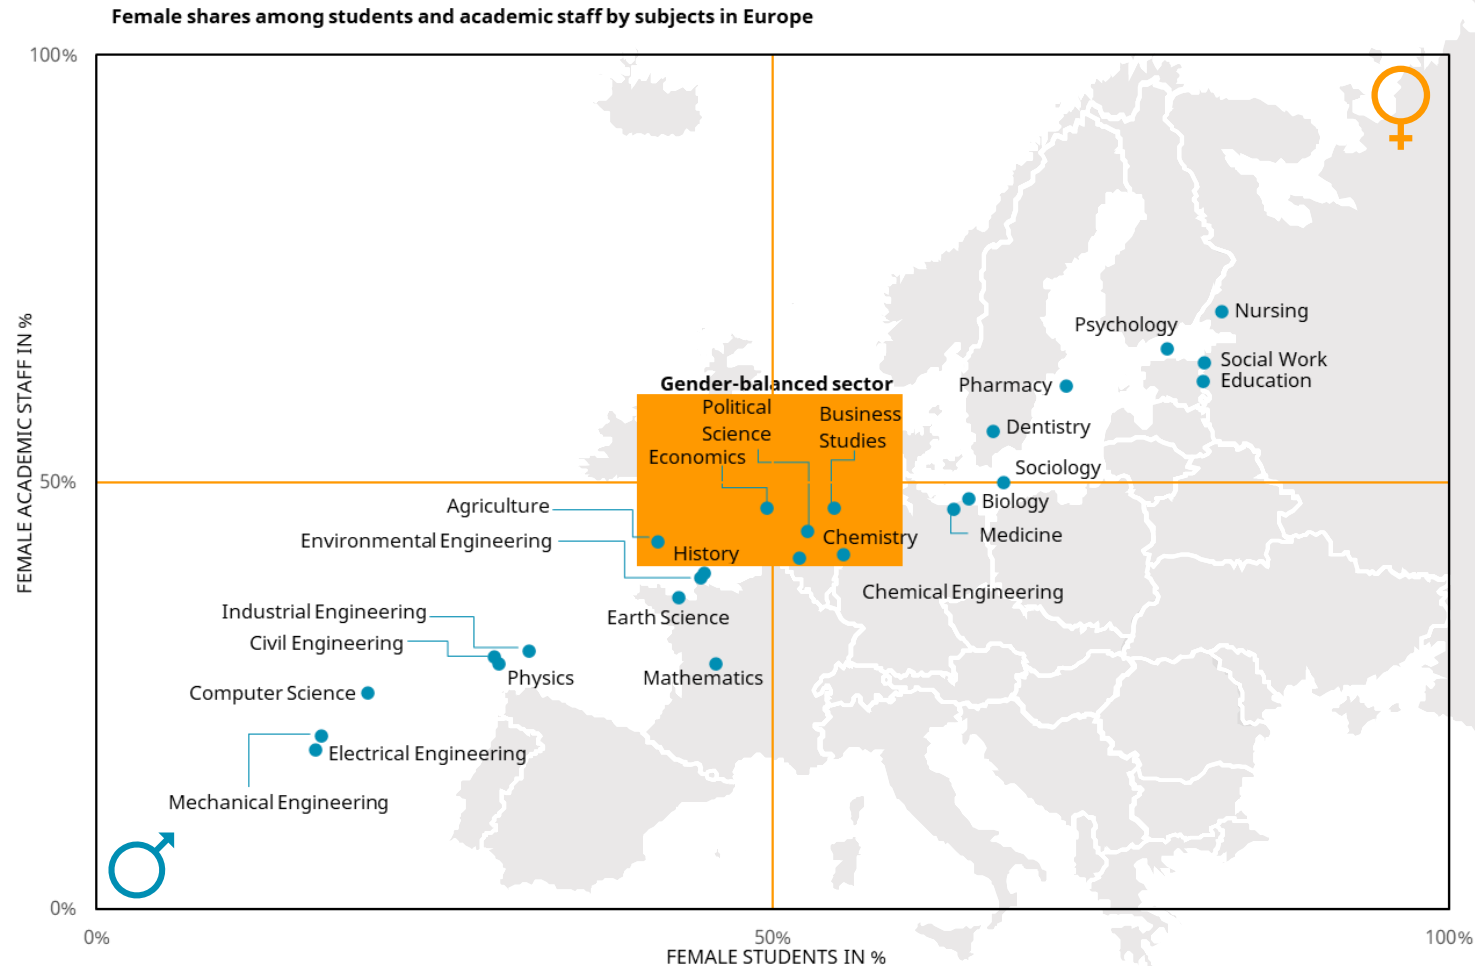

...which potentially also will lead to a gender imbalance in HE leadership positions

The share of female rectors differs between countries...

But: Not in all subjects, it is equally difficult for women to climb the career ladder

We are happy to hear from you!
